

Board Governance That Actually Governs

05

What high-performing boards do differently, and how to get yours there.

“Most boards mistake attendance for governance. High-performing boards know the difference, and it shows up in the numbers.”

IDEAL FOR

- Nonprofit and for-profit boards doing annual self-assessments
- New board chairs and governance committees
- CEOs who want a more useful board, not just a more compliant one

WHAT AUDIENCES LEAVE WITH

- The four duties every director should be able to name without looking them up
- How to tell the difference between a board that governs and one that meddles
- A governance scorecard covering strategy, risk, talent, and culture
- The conversation chairs must lead to keep the board from drifting into the weeds

HOW IT IS DELIVERED

BOARD RETREAT KEYNOTE
60 to 90 minutes

FULL BOARD RETREAT
Half-day or full-day facilitation

CHAIR AND CEO SESSION
Private 90-minute working session

WHY THIS TALK, FROM THIS SPEAKER

Board Chair of Choice in Aging since 2022. Former Chair, De La Salle High School Board of Trustees. Extensive work with nonprofit and for-profit boards on governance redesign.
